Really into keyboards

Appreciate little moments showing utmost keyboard orientation in Raycast.
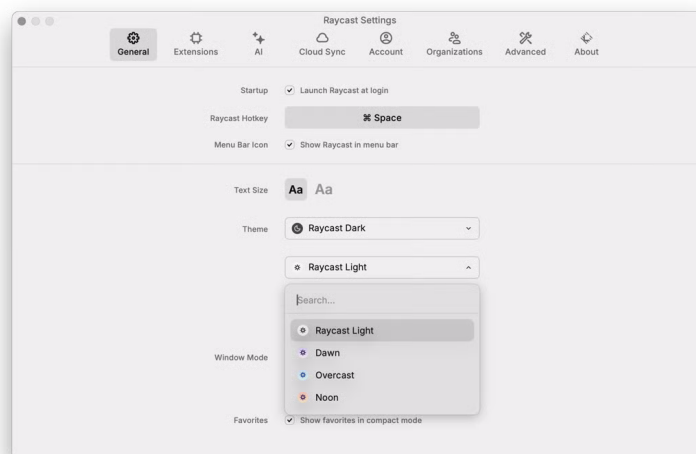

The millisecond you hover over the back button, the app says "you should be using the keyboard for this":

I am not sure you often see tooltips on buttons, with keyboard shortcuts only:

Every select menu – even those with literally two options – has an inline search:

Party like it's 1983! Or 1982! Or 1967!

Also, unrelated, love the clarity of this panel. This is what's synced. This is what's not.
